

Immigrant Safety Plan for Youth and Children

LCYC worked in close collaboration with the University of Washington School of Law Latina/o Student Association (UW LLSA), and UW Law alum, Katherine Brennan, to create this collective legal resource for the community. Northwest Justice Project (NJP) and Seattle University School of Law Latina/o Student Association (SU LLSA) also contributed time and resources. LCYC appreciates the collaboration of professionals and students in meeting an immediate community need.

The below information was gathered to help families who are facing potential detainment or deportation of parents with children (children with or without status). This document is a collective community resource, THIS IS NOT LEGAL ADVICE.

Families who are facing potential detainment or deportation of parents with children (children with or without status) should be preparing now and have the following documentation:

- The child's school emergency contact information
- The child's immunization records
- Intention of Parents for Care for Minor Child
- Temporary Parental Consent Agreement
- The child's birth certificate (whether it is from US or another country)
- The child's social security card

The following information is arranged in sections corresponding to the bullet points above.

Care for Minor Child

This is not legal advice, but is intended to help families that may be in a situation where they may be detained and/or deported and their children may be at risk. Parents may want someone to have the legal power to care and/or make decisions on behalf of their child during this time. The documents in this packet do not give someone legal custody of the child, only a court order can do that. Parents and caregivers should consult a family law attorney to pursue legal custody. This document is intended to only help the parents begin thinking about the process and explain their wishes. It can also be used to help parents obtain education or medical documents that may help their children. Parents can also look into a family preparedness plan at <http://www.washingtonlawhelp.org/resource/family-preparedness-plan?ref=Q1Gc6>.

Parents should choose someone that can care for their child in the event of an emergency/detainment/deportation. This person should be designated as the school emergency contact person in the event that the parents are unreachable to pick up the child. Ask the administration office for this form and fill it out. This person should have status and ideally is a family member (if it is not a family member, the process becomes more complicated). This is very important. If the child can get picked up by the emergency contact, the school may avoid calling the police if a child is not picked up. However, while this may help temporarily, a family law attorney should be consulted for a change in legal custody.

Another item that may be helpful is for the future caregiver to have a background check. Parents should discuss with this person the wishes of the parents and make sure that the future caregivers understand what they may need to do. Parents and caregivers should consult a family law attorney for this advice. For more information on Family Law, see www.washingtonlawhelp.org.

It may be helpful to create the Intention of Parents for Care for Minor Child and Temporary Parental Consent Agreement, which may give the caregiver very temporary legal rights (medical, educational and travel) if the child is placed with them. This does not guarantee that the child will be placed with the caregiver. In order to go through the process to place a child in the legal custody of someone other than the parent, a family law attorney should be consulted.

Once the Intention of Parents for Care of Minor Child and the Temporary Parental Consent Agreement is filled out and notarized (even though the documents state that they do not need to be notarized, they should be notarized.), give the original to the caregiver (along with other important documents), keep a copy for yourself and put a copy (ideally folded in a small plastic bag) in your child's backpack. Let your child know in the event of an emergency, he/she should show this paper to the authorities, the teacher or whomever is talking to them about taking them to another home.

Parents should fill out an Intention of Parents for Care for Minor Children and a Temporary Parental Consent Agreement. Each child should have one document filled out separately. Give the original to the caregiver, keep a copy for yourself and put a copy (ideally folded in a small plastic bag) in your child's backpack. You should also have an electronic copy if that is possible. Do NOT put it on your phone. Let your child know that in the event of an emergency, he/she should show this paper to the authorities, the teacher or whomever is talking to the child about taking him/her to another home. Hopefully, the authorities will follow the parents' wishes and place them with that family member. However, there is no guarantee and it is possible that the Department of Social and Health Services gets involved. Assuming the caregiver knows that this has happened, the caregiver should contact an attorney.

School/Daycare Emergency Contact Information

Each school has an emergency contact information sheet. It may also have a list of authorized people that can visit and/or pick up your child. Ask the administration office at your school for these documents. These documents should be updated to reflect a caregiver that will take your child in the event of an emergency/detainment/deportation. This person should have legal status and ideally is a family member (if it is not a family member, the process of trying to get legal custody for these caregivers becomes more complicated). This person should also be named in the Temporary Parental Consent Agreement. Make sure to notify the caregiver that you have listed them as your emergency contact.

This is very important. If the child can get picked up by the emergency contact, the school or daycare may avoid calling the police if a child is not picked up. However, while this may help temporarily, a family law attorney should be consulted.

Child Immunization Records

Places to look for an official immunization record:

- a. The doctor's office or clinic where your child gets immunizations
- b. Your state health department. In Washington, the records can be found with the Washington State Immunization Information System. You can call 1-866-397-0337 or email WAISRecords@doh.wa.gov to ask for records using the person's name, date of birth and address. Their web page is <http://www.doh.wa.gov/ForPublicHealthandHealthcareProviders/HealthcareProfessionalsandFacilities/DataReportingandRetrieval/ImmunizationInformationSystem/ForParents#get>. Outside of Washington, you can <http://www.cdc.gov/vaccines/programs/iis/contacts-locate-records.html#state>.
- c. You can also ask schools and/or daycares your child has attended

Passports

If a child is US citizen, he/she should get a passport. The passport requires signatures from both parents. If there is only one parent available, another form must be filled out. See details below. This process is very hard to do without a parent present. Furthermore, if the child has a passport, then he/she can travel outside of the country and return lawfully. If the child is from another country, a passport may still be helpful within that country.

U.S. PASSPORTS FOR CHILDREN

- a. Fill out a passport application (DS-11) (see form on page 19)
- b. Call 1-877-487-2778 to locate a passport agency and to make an appointment. The line is staffed with Spanish speakers. If after-hours emergency, call 1-202-647-4000.
- c. Bring identity documents to the appointment
 - i. Proof of Citizenship of the child. Must have one of the following:
 - Original or certified copy of the birth certificate (no photocopies or notarized copies)
 - Consular report of birth abroad or certification of birth
 - Certificate of Citizenship
 - ii. Social Security Number for the child (Required if it has been issued)
 - If it has been issued but you do not remember the number, you will need to contact the Social Security Administration for a new card with the Social Security number.
 - If the child has never had a social security number before, it is okay but you will need to sign and date a statement which says: "I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the following is true and correct: I have never been issued a Social Security number by the Social Security Administration."
- d. Show Parental Relationship and Consent.
 - i. If the child is under the age of 16
 - If two parents have custody of the child, then you must show that both parents authorize the child to have a passport. Both parents have to be with the child when they apply for the passport. If they cannot, then you will have to show that the parent who is not with the child, has given permission or is not able to give permission.

To give permission, the parent who is not able to go with the child must fill out Form DS-3053 "Statement of Consent". This form must be notarized and expires 90 days after the day it was signed. A photocopy of the front and back of the parents ID must be with the form. If both parents cannot be with the child, they will both have to complete the form.

To prove that the parent asking for the passport cannot get permission from the parent who cannot give permission, the parent can submit Form DS-5525 "Statement of Exigent/Special Family Circumstances." If there are safety concerns for the parent asking for the passport and the child, this form can be used to ask for the passport without the other parent.

- If one parent has sole custody of the child, they will need to prove that they have sole custody. This proof can include a birth certificate that lists only one parent, a certified court order granting sole legal custody, a certified divorce decree, a certified adoption decree, a certified certificate of death of the parent who cannot appear or any other certified court order that proves that you have legal custody.
- ii. If the child is 16 or 17
 - If the child is 16 or 17 and has their own ID, they can apply without a parent being present but the passport agencies prefer one parent be with the child or one parent give written consent (a signed statement with a photocopy of the parents ID).
- e. Proof of Identity. If the child is under 16, the parent must bring an ID. If the child is 16 or 17, they can bring their ID or their parent must bring their ID. Must bring the original ID and a photocopy of the front and back of each ID you use.
 - State issued, valid non-driver ID or driver's license
 - Certificate of Naturalization or Citizenship
 - Valid or expired, undamaged passport from the US or any other country.
 - Matricula consular
 - Valid work permit or permanent resident card issued by Department of Homeland Security.
- f. A passport style photo of the child
- g. Fees:
 - Regular processing time is 4-6 weeks and costs a total of $105 ($80 passport fee, $25 processing fee).
 - Expedited processing in person will take about 8 business days (maybe less depending on need and if you can prove there is an emergency) and costs a total of $185.66 ($80 passport fee, $25 processing fee, $60 expedited processing fee, $20.66 overnight delivery fee).
